

Cultural Resources Management Services

GSRC provides cultural resources management services for public and private clients across North America. GSRC's team of cultural resources professionals has decades of combined experience in all types and levels of investigations and research, providing clients with innovative, efficient, and cost-effective solutions to achieve project goals while preserving an area's cultural heritage and meeting Federal, state, and local compliance regulations.

GSRC has successful long-standing relationships with many Federal agencies (e.g., U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Air Force, U.S. Customs and Border Protection), state agencies, and private clients across the country. Further, GSRC holds numerous indefinite quantity contracts with Federal agencies. GSRC's cultural resources staff has developed a broad base of experience in cultural resources management in a variety of landscape conditions and is extremely knowledgeable of the legal requirements and regulations that govern cultural resource studies. GSRC's cultural resources team members fully meet the qualifications specified in the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualification Standards and conduct themselves according to the professional and ethical standards of the Register of Professional Archaeologists.

GSRC has over 25 cultural resources management projects currently underway or completed in the last 3 years, providing clients with a broad range of services related to cultural resources management.
